E. H. POLLARD, ESQ.

The Scheme of a Local Bank for this Colony with Branches at the most important places in China, has been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hongkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidly within the last few years that additional Banking facilities are felt to be required.

The Banks now in China, being only branches of Corporations whose head quarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefly with the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local trade which has become into much more extensive and varied than in former years.

This deficiency the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company will supply, and will in fact assume the same position with relation to this Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities.

The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong, providing an adequate supply of proper currency, will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the almost certain disappearance of the existing Compradore system, (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive medium for the transaction of the monetary operations connected with trade.

For the anticipated success of this enterprise there are therefore ample grounds, and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shows that the largest profits are obtained by those that the largest profits are obtained by those Public Companies which possess an interested local body of Proprietors or Shareholders whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai and as the importance of its business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a local Board of Directors there for more effectually meeting the work. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other places.

In the distribution of Shares Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere, who are directly interested in the China Trade.

Applications for Shares must be addressed until further notice, to the Provisional Committee, care of MESSRS. DENT & Co.

NOTICE is hereby given that the final date for receiving applications for Shares will be the 31st October next.

It is also notified, that the form of application for Shares must be as follows:—

To the Provisional Committee of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Company, Limited.

Gentlemen,

I request, that you will be pleased to allot me ——Shares of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars each in the above-named Bank and I agree to accept such Shares or any less number which may be allotted to me, and to pay a call of Twenty-five Dollars per Share on allotment and a further call of One Hundred Dollars per Share, three months subsequent to the date of such first call. I also undertake to confirm the Acts of the Provisional Committee pending the appointment of a permanent Court of Directors, and to subscribe to the Deed of Settlement, when called on to do so.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your obedient Servant,

THE COMMERCIAL BANK OF INDIA.

THIS Company has been formed for the purpose of purchasing a site in the Colony of Hongkong for Docks and constructing Docks and erecting suitable Premises thereon for carrying on the Business of Building or Docking and Repairing Steamers and Sailing Vessels, and for the purchase of the Docks now owned and carried on at Whampoa by Messrs. T. HUNT & Co. with the Appurtenances Plant and Good-will of the Docking Business of that Firm.

It is proposed to register the Company as one of Limited Liability either under the Imperial Act or under any Ordinance which the local Legislature may pass enabling local Companies to do so, the property of the Company in the meantime being vested in the Trustees, and the Deed of Settlement of the Company, now in course of preparation, is being framed in accordance with this intention.

The very considerable increase in the number of Vessels employed in what may be termed local trade, or in voyages that either originate or terminate, at Hongkong, in addition to the great quantity of tonnage visiting the Port from all quarters of the World, afford ample scope for the remunerative operations of Dock Companies, in addition to those which are already in existence.

Application has been made to Her Majesty's Government with reference to obtaining a site for the proposed Docks in the Colony, and the project has been favourably entertained, steps being in progress to facilitate this object, the necessary preliminary investigations as to the suitable character of the proposed site having been conducted and satisfactorily reported upon, by Mr. S. B. RAWLINS.

Liberal support has been promised to the undertaking which it is contemplated must necessarily prove a very remunerative one.

Further applications for Shares can till further notice be addressed to the Undersigned from whom forms of application and all particulars can be obtained.

The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, 23RD SEPTEMBER, 1864.

THERE are three coolie barracoons open at Macao. These establishments have agents at Canton who earn a fee of three dollars for every victim they may succeed in placing on board the fast boats which ply between the two places. The matter should be enquired into, as we strongly suspect a gross fraud lies at the bottom of the transaction. It is the first step taken to deprive the poor creatures of their liberty, and to transfer their persons to the foreign kidnapper.

We learn from Canton that intelligence has been received there to the effect that Northern Rebels have entered the Province of Kwangtung via Chiu-Chau and Namhung.—It cannot be said that there is any popular excitement yet, but the news is viewed as alarming. The probability is that the insurgents from Hoo-chow have worked their way South for subsistence.

We hear that the new Dock Company have come to advantageous terms with the Government relative to the site at Kowloon. The ground will have to be put up at auction in accordance with the rules and regulations made and provided, but as a prime condition of the sale will be the construction of docks within a limited period, it is hardly likely that any competition will be excited.

We rejoice to find that the Government is at last sufficiently awake to the construction of docks in the colony as to induce them to meet the enterprising parties concerned in the undertaking in a proper spirit. We are given to understand that most of the shares of the New Dock Company have been taken up, and that the undertaking is viewed as une affaire accomplit.

The steps adopted in the business appear to us to be dictated by sound sense, strict economy and practical knowledge. We hope the result will be that the repairs of vessels in Hongkong may be effected at one third less than heretofore, and with twice the despatch. Such a result will undoubtedly multiply the business, affording vast employment to artizans and laborers.

We give a mercantile report of the Coal case which was tried before the acting Chief Justice and a special jury on Monday the 12th inst. This is one of the celebrated De Mattos' cases, of which several occurred here, but which with the exception of that now reported, have been all settled out of Court.

The law bears hard in these cases on the ship-owner, and encourages reckless trading. In so far as the first instalment of freight was concerned, the ship owner took De Mattos' acceptance, and clearly had to stand on it. But we would have thought the law would have favored the shipowner regarding the second instalment, which was to be paid on a certificate being produced of right and true delivery. The agreement was between De Mattos and the owner of the ship, and De Mattos transferred the coals subject to that agreement. We should have supposed that bankruptcy ere the delivery of the coals was a violation of the agreement, and that therefore the shipowner had a lien on the coals for the performance thereof. However the law appears not to be so, and therefore shipowners must protect themselves by clauses on the Bills of Lading.

THE steamer Sterling, Capt. Henderson, which has been employed for the past few months in carrying coal from Labuan to this, arrived from that colony the day before with another important intelligence. Owing to a quarrel which occurred between the Malay and the Chinese coolies at the coal mines, a serious Chinese coolies at the coal mines, a serious riot take place, which led to loss of life and to some bloodshed in addition. The Malays fought with krisses, the Chinese with bamboos; the former were getting the best of it, when two Englishmen connected with the mines, who are popular with the Malays, separated the combatants, and by persuasions kept them apart.

It seems that there is a garrison on the Island of 300 Sepoys, commanded by four English officers.—At one time matters looked very serious, and indeed after the combatants were separated, there appeared a strong probability of their renewing the combat. The sterling, which lying off the mines, landed twelve Europeans armed, and fired several alarm guns, which although they brought no assistance, intimidated the rioters. The Europeans at the mines, sent a messenger to the Governor, Mr. Callaghan (who was Chief Magistrate here) for a Sepoy guard. His Excellency naturally could not be so easily induced to comply with such a request without calling a Council, but in order to quiet the minds of the Europeans at the mines, he sent his tip-staff armed with a police baton. After calling a Council of war, he decided on sending the Sepoys by water.

The man is assuredly the greatest asset in existence. From the barracks to the mines there is an excellent road, the distance being about seven miles. The Sepoys could easily have started at three in the afternoon, in which case they would have reached the mines at five—but His Excellency although uncertain as to the fate of the Europeans at the mines, declined to expose the Sepoys to the sun. After sunset, he had them marched to Victoria bay which is two miles further from the mines than the barracks are. He then had them embarked on board the surveying steamer Rifleman, which in that dangerous navigation, took them to the mines, where she arrived at 10 P.M. The Europeans had had sufficient moral force to keep the combatants separate—but their numbers being few they were in imminent jeopardy during these Hibernian tactics of Governor Callaghan.

To present an analagous case. Suppose intelligence arrived at the Murray barracks at 2 P.M. that a number of Europeans were in imminent jeopardy at Pook-foo-lum. The commandant, instead of sending relief direct, waits until the sun goes down, and then embarks his men on board a steamer at East Point.

This disturbance has stopped mining operations for the present at Labuan. The Sterling was despatched with only part of a cargo, the manager desiring that she would seek other employment and not come down again. He had a stock on hand, but he preferred to keep it for passing steamers. The ship Goshen was despatched from Labuan for Hongkong with 1,200 tons Coals on the 22rd or 24th ultimo and may be anxiously and hourly looked for.

SUPREME COURT.

Butler and others versus Duthie.

Before the Acting Chief Justice and special Jury.

JURYMEN.

H. M. Bosman, | J. M. Vickers,
F. Parry, | F. D. Williams,
H. S. Gibb, | R. Rowell,
W. P. Kup.

Counsel for the Plaintiffs, Mr. Kingsmill and Mr. Pollard.

Counsel for the Defendant. The Attorney General and Mr. Paunefote.

This was an action in trover brought by the Plaintiffs Butler and others trading in London under the name of A. and J. Johnston & Co. against Mr. W. Duthie also of London the registered owner of the British ship "Indiaman."

The Indiaman was chartered from the Defendant by Mr. W. N. de Mattos of London to load a cargo of coals at Birkenhead and to proceed therewith to Hongkong—As regarded the payment of freight the charter party stipulated as follows.

"The freight to be paid in London on unloading and right delivery of the cargo at and after the rate of thirty nine shillings sterling per ton of 20 cwt on the quantity delivered, in full of all port charges, Boko Dock Wharfage, Harbour dues on cargo and Dover and Ramsgate Dues, as customary, and such freight is to be paid, one one half by Charter's acceptance at four months from the final sailing of the ship from her last port in Great Britain, the same to be returned if the cargo be not delivered at the port of destination; the Freighter to insure the amount, and deduct the cost for so doing from the first payment of the freight, and the remainder by the Bill at three months from date of delivery at Charter's office, in London, of the Certificate of the right delivery of the cargo, agreeably to Bills of Lading, less cost of coals or full short delivered, or in cash under discount at five per cent per annum, at Freighter's option."

The Indiaman accordingly proceeded to Birkenhead and there took on board 1,200 tons of Lands Welsh Hartley steam coals for which Bills of lading were signed by the Master (J. E. Webb,) on the 7th October 1863 containing the following clause. "The freight for the said goods to be "paid by the Freighter as per Charter party with "average accustomed."

Mr. Borradaile a member of the firm of Walker Borradaile & Co. being in London about the time the ship had completed her loading arranged between Mr. W. N. de Mattos and Messrs. A. and J. Johnston & Co. for an advance of £2,100 —(being 37/—per ton on 1,200 Tons) to be made by the latter to the former.

This advance having been agreed upon and made, the documents relating to the cargo and advance were forwarded by Messrs. H. and J. Johnston & Co. to Messrs. Walker Borradaile & Co. of this port with orders when realized to remit proceeds to Messrs. H. and J. Johnston & Co. direct, their letter containing the following sentence—"please note that we have advanced "£2,100—due 22nd April 1864 against this cargo "under your guarantee as before."

It may here be mentioned that on the 8th December and therefore during the Indiaman's voyage M. W. N. de Mattos the Charterer stopped payment.

The Indiaman having arrived in Hongkong on the 14th February Mr. Walker proceeded on board the following day to present the Bill Lading and to demand delivery of the Cargo but as Captain Webb was not on board, the demand was made of the Captain on the following morning at Messrs. Walker Borradaile & Co's office which demand the Captain refused to comply with unless the freight was paid or security given for the same—Mr. Walker not having consented to enter into any such arrangement, Captain Webb on the 16th of March through an Auctioneer advertized the Cargo for sale on board by Public Auction and on the 22nd March the entire Cargo was knocked down at $8.50 per ton.

This action was then brought to receive damages for the wrong sustained by the Plaintiffs at the hands of the defendants Servant.

Mr. Pollard having opened the pleadings Mr. Kingsmill addressed the Court on the part of the Plaintiffs and called Mr. W. Borradaile who proved the fact of the advance having been made by the Plaintiffs to Mr. De Mattos and of the Defendant being aware of such advance having been granted. The Attorney General submitted the witness to a severe cross examination but elicited nothing of consequence.

Mr. R. S. Walker was then called to prove the demand having been made for the coals on the Ship's arrival and Captain Webb's refusal to comply with the demand except upon conditions mentioned above.

Mr. Schmidt the resident partner of the firm of Fletcher & Co. was called to prove that part of the proceeds of the coals were paid by Captain Webb to his firm, out of which they disbursed the Ship remitting the balance to the Defendant.

Mr. F. T. Smith Broker was then called to prove the sale on board the Ship he having bought them for account of a firm at $8.50 per ton.

Mr. Adamson Manager of the Douro Company Limited and Mr. A. Booth of the firm of Bourjau Hubener & Co. were called to prove the market price of Coals at the date of the conversion viz the 16th or 17th February the day on which the demand for the Coals was made by the Consignees and refused by the Master. Market price at that time was proved to be about $10½ per ton from alongside.

This closed the case for the Plaintiffs and as the Defendants Counsel decided not to call any Witnesses Mr. Pollard was proceeding to address the Jury in reply when the foreman stated that the Jury would not trouble him. He however begged to be allowed to draw their attention to the question of Interest which the Law left entirely in their hands to be dealt with as they might think fit.

The Attorney General then addressed the Court for the defence and in mitigation of damages.

The Acting Chief Justice summed up the evidence.

The Jury after a few minutes deliberation returned a verdict for the Plaintiffs—Damages $13231.63 being

1195 Tons of Coals @ $10½ per ton $12546.25
Since Interest @ 6 p.c. per annum $ 386.38

$13231.63

One or two Legal points were reserved.

THE following are the names of the jurors:—Messrs. R. Bidau, Chas. A. Lovcck, Chas. W. Smith, A. B. Abbott, Chas. Dannenberg, W. Harding and James Atkinson.

Leong Hefat was charged with Piracy and Murder.

SIN AYEW said: I was a seaman on board a Towman boat on the 22nd of May; we were sailing off Kashik; we had a cargo of pigs and betel nuts, the crew consisted of 18 and we had 3 passengers, and a man named Chee Atai was in charge of the cargo. On the 27th of May we were attacked by two piratical boats about 9 o'clock in the morning; they commenced by opening fire on us which we returned; one of the pirate boats ran alongside and threw stink pots, by one of which I was burnt; ten armed men boarded us; the prisoner was one of those men. I saw one of our men cut down by one of pirates and thrown overboard. We were kept below and the prisoner took charge of our boat and sailed her to a place near Kowlun where our cargo was discharged, and we remained there two or three days and thence went to Lo-po-kow where we stayed 5 or 6 days. Here the pirates set us free. Several of us managed to get to Macao, and thence came to Hongkong where we arrived on the 16th of June. We took all our meals with the pirates, and I always saw the prisoner with them. The affair was reported by me to the police, and I went about to see if I could meet any of the pirates. On the 15th of July I was going down Tong-mon Lane, when I saw the prisoner, who, when he saw me ran away. I called a Chinese Lokong, who, with me, gave chase and the prisoner was secured.

The testimony of this witness was borne out by the Captain and one of the Crew of the boat on which the piracy was committed. Both of these also swore positively to the identity of the prisoner, who was Convicted, sentence being deferred.

Le Awa and two others were found Guilty of Highway Robery with arms.

These prisoners had been convicted previously of two similar offences for which they were each to suffer four years penal servitude. They were now sentenced on the present conviction to two years imprisonment with hard labour in addition to the other penalties.

Fan Ayee and Koo Afat were charged with Larceny.

HONG SEE LOW a fisherman, said that he lived in a hut in British Kowloong, two sons lived with him, one of whom is dumb and deaf and 22 years old. The second prisoner came to the hut about noon on the 11th of August; he was known to witness and he stayed a short time and then went away. Witness and his sons went to rest about 10 o'clock. About 11 o'clock he was awakened and saw about 10 men with torches and swords, some of their faces could be seen, and he heard some of them say they would have revengeance. They tied witness with his hands behind him and dragged his son to the beach, first possessing themselves of all the clothes and other things they could find which they also carried off to a boat. Witness remained tied up till daylight the following morning when he was released by a Stonecutter, he reported the affair to the police about noon on the day he was released, and about 2 o'clock his son returned. On the 15th he with his son and a policeman went to Toong-mun-wan and in a hut found the first and second prisoners. They went to a second hut where they found some of the witness's property.

HON CHOEY HING, the youngest son of the last witness, gave similar testimony with respect to the attack on their hut on the night in question, and said that he was dragged by the first and second prisoners to a boat, into which he was put with a number of articles belonging to his father. He was landed at Fukei and then taken to Toong-mun-wan where he was kept in a hut under the charge of a woman named Leong A Kew. On the following day when they were all feasting in another hut, witness made his escape, got a passage in a boat and went home to his father with whom and a policeman he afterwards returned to the place and saw the prisoners secured.

JERSHIAH FOLEY, a police sergeant said he had a subpœna to serve on a woman in the village of Tung-mun-won which village had been lately cleared away and was situated on the site of the New Mint, therefore he had been unsuccessful in finding the woman.

The depositions of the woman Leong Atai were then read from which it appeared that the boy was brought to her hut by the prisoners on the of the 11th of August. The prisoners asked her to take care of him there, and she did so, but gave him every opportunity to escape which he did on the following day.

Foley, still under examination, then proceeded to say that he went with the first and second witnesses to the hut in Tung-mun-won and took the prisoners and the woman to the station.

The jury returned a verdict of Guilty and the prisoners were sentenced each to four years penal servitude.

The Court was then adjourned till this (Friday) morning.

EXTRACTS.

From Japan Herald, Sept. 10

Last evening a fracas of a serious character occured in the Settlement, close to the Old Hatoba. The Belocchoes were yesterday transferred from their tents upon the hill to the Old Custom-house their tents upon the hill to the Old Custom-house facing the Hatoba, which it is intended Godowns facing the Hatoba, which it is intended Godowns will occupy as their barracks for some time.

It seems that one of the Sepoys was struck by a stone thrown by a Japanese when a general Mêlée ensued, ending in three Japanese being made prisoners and dragged into the Barracks by the Soldiers, though not before two of the Japanese were wounded or severely beaten.

An officer with a picket arrived shortly afterwards, but returned without being required to render any service, as before their arrival matters had been so far settled as that the Japanese were handed over to the Custom House authorities.

We know nothing further of the particulars of this affair; and so far it appears that the Belocchoes probably thought it necessary to act with vigor in self-defence; but though generally desirous to avoid remarks upon matters of military arrangements, we cannot but observe upon what seems to be a step fraught with great danger to the peace of the Settlement—the stationing the Belocchoes close to the native town with no European officer in charge on the spot; we trust that it is intended to make this provision forthwith.

The Spanish Railway Loan.

The public must not infer from the fact of another case having occurred of persons being found willing to lend money to Spain that laxity on points of national and mutual faith is becoming a characteristic of the commercial body of London. Spain is now in such financial straits that the prince offered here by her agents for occasional support are such as would scarcely be credited except by those who are conversant with the various movements that are attempted. Under such circumstances isolated instances must be expected to transpire where the temptation proves too strong for the moral power of resistance. But it is certain that these cases will be rare. To the credit of nearly all the finance companies it may be stated that they are known to have refused positively to entertain such proposals, and to have intimated that so long as Spain continues to defraud her foreign creditors they will not be parties in relieving her from the consequences of her dishonesty.

Reports are such as would scarcely be credited except by those who are conversant with the various movements that are attempted. Under such circumstances isolated instances must be expected to transpire where the temptation proves too strong for the moral power of resistance. But it is certain that those cases will be rare. To the credit of nearly all the finance companies it may be stated that they are known to have refused positively to entertain such proposals, and to have intimated that so long as Spain continues to defraud her foreign creditors they will not be parties in relieving her from the consequences of her dishonesty. The same tone, too, has recently been taken by nearly all our private firms notwithstanding the most determined efforts that have been made to tamper with them. In fact, so far from the assistance which Senor Salaverria has been able to procure being evidence of a growing indifference to principle on the part of the financial community, it may safely be said to have drawn forth the most gratifying demonstrations to the contrary, since there has perhaps never been a question of the kind on which the general expression of feeling has been more unanimous. It would have been a fatal symptom of the rage for getting wealth on any terms if this had not been the case. Not only are we bound to defend our own plundered interests, but also those of France, Holland, and Germany, from whom we expect like consideration. Something also is due cause of public honesty throughout the globe, and finally we owe it as a duty to the Spanish people themselves—a nation whose merchants are second to none in naturalintegrity, not to promote in the slightest degree either directly or indirectly the perpetuation of a system on the part of their Finance Ministers which places them in the lowest depths of degradation. The advance to the Malaga Railway may have been made on the idea that it had nothing to do with the Government. Of course it ought to have been known that every such public work is connected with the Government, and, moreover, that if parties styling themselves companies or private firms find themselves able to get large loans, a Minister like Senor Salaverria will very soon see what may be done through such instruments. Buttevery Englishman will revolt, for the reputation of his country, that the transactions which have actually taken place may be softened as much as possible. Henceforth, however, there can be no plea for ingorance, and every similar affair must be stigmatized as an intentional disregard to the ideas that by common consent are held to regulate the commercial world.—Times.

The Monroe Doctrine.

This venerable formula seems to have been consigned to the tomb of exploded humbugs. The idea that a third of this terraqueous planet is to be tomahawked to civilization until the Yankees can colonize it really seems too absurd for repetition, except upon the stump, or in "patriotic" journals. When the Almighty made the earth He made it for man and He omitted to mark off upon the vast atlas of the physical geography the respective portions sacred to Dutchmen, Frenchmen, Russians, Englishmen, and Yankees. The whole notion is a fanciful soap-bubble inflated with the nauseating gas of national vanity and egotism. That portion of this continent which Americans can appropriate and civilize, they have a natural right to. What they can't appropriate and civilize Europeans may lawfully and rightfully. To pretend to stand guard over vast tracts of undeveloped territory and warn off all who would bring to them the blessings of civilization and good government, is an insult to the common sense of the humanity of this century. It is time this humbug was exploded.—Pacific Mining Journal.

As We Understand It.

It seems that, from the first day the Rebels opposed the Lincoln Administration to the present moment, we have been "whipping" "driving," "defeating" and "slaupadging" them; that nothing save some outrageous interference of Divine Providence can save them; that we are far "superior in numbers," and "can afford to lose men" better than they can; that "our men are in excellent spirits;" that the Rebels are "demoralized;" that the "sanitary condition" of our troops is excellent, while the Rebels—without quinine or any one thing to keep life and soul together—are "dying by the thousand;" that we have "one man killed," while the Rebels were slaughtered in thousands; that we drive the Rebels before us up to the walls of Richmond and always take the back track for a strategic object; that our financial affairs are in a most satisfactory condition," whilst the Rebels "have neither money nor credit;" that "reinforcements are coming in daily," whilst "the Rebels are dragging old men and sickly boys and forcing them into the ranks." In short it seems to our unsophisticated mind that the rebellion ought to have been "squelched out" long ago and that the "overwhelming numbers" of the Rebels is a joke of the Loyal Press, and can have no existence in fact. What is "Old Brains" about? And where is "Fighting Joe?" We grow impatient, and sigh for the advent of the disbanded ex-military outlet—or of taxes! We have but one poll yet pay four poll-taxes; and hope to pay on a thousand—or at least be able to pay.—Ibid.

The Cape of Good Hope

The latest accounts, which are of the 23rd of June, state that all danger of a Kaffir war was believed by the commander of the forces to have passed away, and the continuance of peace was considered certain. The few troops remaining in Cape Town were to be forwarded to the frontier. Although the alarm of a "frontier war had fortunately proved to be unfounded, the mere occurrence of such a rumour was deemed by the colonists as very far from pleasant. It was also considered that there was far more ground for the rumour than had as yet transpired.—Examiner.

Brigandage in Tuscany.

The Tuscans have been recently surprised by a brigand outrage in their own neighbourhood—the victims being the wife and son of an English traveller, who writes as follows to The Times, giving an account of the affair: "To avoid misapprehension I wish to state facts. Last night I forwarded a telegram, from Florence, of which the following is the translation: 'To the English Ambassador at Turin.—This afternoon five brigands stopped my wife's carriage on the Pisana high road, seven miles from Florence. They fired twice; they wounded one of the horses dangerously; they tore from her what jewels she had on; they carried our son from her to the hills, retaining him for a ransom of 12,000 scudi (2,800); they did not come to receive the ransom at the appointed time and place and we can hear nothing more of my son. As an Englishman, I address myself to you.—Disby. Baker, July 28.' Of course, this was only sent to prevent any possible dilatoriness in the Tuscan authorities. But I would bear willing testimony to the activity and good will of all the police, military, and National Guards of Florence and its neighbourhood. Our son returned about four o'clock this morning. But some misapprehension of the significations with his escorts, the chief of the brigands thought that they had received the ransom, and released the youth in the woods at a distance of five miles from our villa—giving him a pass to save him from others of his band, and desiring him to thank his parents for the money, which would pay their journey to Austria. The chief told him that he himself was a deserter from the Papal camp, that one of his fellows was a German, two other of Romagna and the Venetian States, and that they were twenty-five in number. Cumbincersion foot and on horseback have scoured the country since midnight, and half a dozen are left in my house to-night. But we have little hope that the robbers can be taken by heavily armed troops, whose advance can be seen from every rising ground. But until they are taken, the country is uninhabitable outside the walls of Florence. As this outrage will doubtless be reported to you, I wish to state the facts as far as I myself know them.—You obedient servant, J. R. D. Beste."—Examiner.

Horrible Incident of the Rebellion.

Unparalleled barbarism.—A young unionist is lost into a Tennessee saltpit, 6 acre and exists there for nine months—his rescue, condition, ect.

Graysville, April 11.—The people of Parker's Gap were much alarmed yesterday morning by a rumor that there was a human being in an old saltpetre bave near the Gap, supposed to be the same cave recently visited by Colonel Bingham, while on picket. The Col. failed to explore it on account of the noxious vapors issuing from the opening. The ladies, God bless them! ever ready to respond to the calls of humanity, hurried to the rescue, but their united efforts where insufficient to extricate the sufferer.

Surgeon Marks, Medical Director of this Division, and Surgeon Powers, of the artillery, where sent for and after a great deal of labor the poor fellow was taken from his living tomb. He was immediately recognized as John Harrison, Jr. It is supposed that this unfortunate man was deposited in the cave about the middle of last August by his father, who is connected with the Mining and Nitro-Bureau of the Confederate States of America, and that he has remained there ever since. When taken out he was entirely helpless and speechless, and although youthful, was wholly destitute of hair and teeth. He will not be able to tell the tale of his horrible suffering for years. How he sustained existence in that "dark unfathomed cave" for three quarters of a year, is a question for the student in physiology to answer.

Parties under command of Captain Gabby, First Wisconsin, Captain Clark, Assistant Quartermaster Third Brigade, Lieutenant Channel, Battalion C, First Illinois, and Lieutenant Dennickson, Fifteenth infantry, were immediately sent out to explore the various saltpetre caves in this vicinity, as it is supposed that some of the Rebs fell back from here in large number of unfortunates where hidden away in the same manner.

Lieutenant Meekes, signal officer, Adjutant Watkins, of the First Wisconsin, and the subscriber have been busily engaged for the last day or two in exploring for unworked caves, for the purpose of stopping them up to prevent further accidents. As yet this benevolent trio have not succeeded in finding any except an old and worn out mine, accidentally discovered by the Adjutant, the entrance to which was so fearfully large that it was impossible for him to entirely close it and he was disconfirmed work upon it until the return of Sargeon Dixon, of the Third Brigade.

The battalion of the Fifteenth infantry, with the band, which has been so long on duty at Chattanooga, arrived here yesterday. As soon as Dennickson gets back from his raid on the Saltpetre Caves, your "especial" will probably be invited over to storm Wagner's Battery.—Philadelphia Inquirer, April 22.

Law And Police.

A suit for nullity of marriage of remarkable interest is now being tried at Bordeaux. A respectable French, a titulaire, named Balnc is said to set aside a marriage into which he alleges that his son, a young man of weak intellect, was entrapped at Rome. He charges a conspiracy against the bride and her mother, and an interdicted priest named Arcangeli, to bring about the marriage by fraud, intimidation, and false imprisonment, the Papal police conniving. It appeared from M. Jules Favre's statement that the weak brain of which this son, a young man of weak intellect, was entrapped at Rome. He charges a conspiracy against the bride and her mother, and an interdicted priest named Arcangeli, to bring about the marriage by fraud, intimidation, and false imprisonment, the Papal police conniving. It appeared from M. Jules Favre's statement that under the circumstances this was the "free consent" which, according to French law, is of the essence of the marriage contract. The court below construed the previous clandestine marriage as evidence of the young man's real intentions, and it was influenced by the fact that since the marriage he has several times returned to Teresa Cenotti, and written her affectionate letters as his wife. Teresa, who has been living for the last year and a half at Angouleme, produces a certificate of good conduct from the bishop of that diocese, who, however, is at present exiled, has received orders from Rome to support her. M. Jules Favre in supporting the appeal, pronounced a terrible invective against the immorality of the Papal police, and eloquently claimed the protection of the court for French families. In the course of reading his evidence he produced a very curious letter from a former grand provost of the army of Rome—a witness who must have had unusual opportunities of knowing what the Papal authorities really are. This old soldier, now commanding a company of gendarmerie at Marseilles, wrote as follows to M. Balnette, senior: "My antecedents, my principles, and the rank I held of superior officer in the gendarmerie should place my testimony above all suspicion, when I give facts which must seem incredible in France, even though I say they passed before my own eyes. Were I yet in Rome I could be able to get you the certificate you want of the "Ohnste Teresa's" way of life. But it would be idle to apply direct for it to the Roman police. In the first place, they would not take any steps to procure one unless paid in advance a very considerable sum. Then, even there any doubts held as to the one which might be made of it, they would represent her as a cruelly-deceived virgin, torn from the arms of afflicted parents by ascamp of a Frenchman. I am on intimate terms with M. Poisson d'Estralques, the chancellor of the French embassy. I shall apply to him for the certificate you want, because he is used to such things, and knows that he must be diplomatist when dealing with wily Italians, who make a merit of deceiving "French canailles believing not in God," for in France we do not believe in God as the Romans do. I have arrested at Rome assassins of the bluckest dye, who, under the pretext of serving legitimacy in Naples, had committed the most atrocious crimes, keeping in durance those whom they had captured until ransomed, and sending them home in a mutilated condition. I remember well the names and crimes of these brigands, every one of whom was provided with regular passports, and had often been concealed in convents when not ransomed. I have often arrested to the great scandal of the clerky others in the churches in flagrante delicto, in consequence of which the Roman police connived at their escape. It is well to know all this when one is about to seek justice in a place where it is never practised.—Bénoy de la Drôme." The counsel for Teresa Cenotti is yet to be heard, and then M. Jules Favre will reply.

ATTENTION!!

HAVING come to my knowledge through a letter I have just received from Whampoa, that there are at present at that place certain Chinese dressed in European costume, who are said to be kidnapping their countrymen as coolies for the Macao barracoons, using my name as the party for whose account the traffic is being carried on. I deem it my duty to make it known that I have no connection either direct or indirect with these men nor with such others that may use my name as the party therein interested, for, as it is quite notorious, I never have taken an interest in the coolie trade as being entirely opposed to my principle

I may also take to add that the most effective means have been adopted for the apprehension and conviction of the culprits.

At Pagoda Anchorage River Min.

ONE of the most Desirable and healthy Spots on the Coast of China, and where in consequence of the trade which is daily increasing through the uninterrupted communication by means of steamers to Shanghai and Hongkong, a fortune might rapidly be realised.

The establishment which is now offered for sale is reluctantly relinquished in consequences of the prolonged and serious illness of the proprietor.

It consists of a large, airy and comfortable house, with river frontage, attached to which is a coal godown of large dimensions and the entire stock and store of the Ship Chandlery business known as that of DOBIE & Co.

The proprietor in offering this valuable property for sale begs to intimate that if an entire purchase would be objectionable, he would let the same on a long lease, or upon any other favourable terms that may offer.
